MARKET INSIGHTS

- ✓ Showings have slowed down, which is to be expected during the holiday season.
- ✓ Appraised home values are affecting transactions under contract and resulting in closing delays.
- ✓ Denver is one of the fastest growing home building markets in the country. That fast pace is leading to more consumer complaints as it's spreading new home builders thin and bringing down the quality of new homes being built.
- ✓ Buyers are consistently underestimating what it costs to build a custom home. REALTORS® need to be sure that buyers have consulted with a builder for a realistic estimate before closing on a lot.
- ✓ Recent increase in interest rates could price out some first-time home buyers.
- ✓ Mortgage professionals are cautioning buyers not to float their rate, but rather get it locked as rates are going up.
- ✓ An increasing number of buyers and sellers are inquiring about the possibility of owner-carry financing.
- ✓ The maximum conforming loan limits are going up, which is great news for buyers! According to the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA), as of 2017 the high balance loan amount for a single unit in high-cost areas will increase to $493,350. It's likely those loans will have a slightly higher interest rate and buyers will need to put at least 5% down. This is the first increase in 10 years. Counties at the $493,350 level include Adams, Arapahoe, Broomfield, Clear Creek, Denver, Douglas, Elbert, Gilpin, Jefferson and Park. A few counties have an even higher limit. Boulder's limit will be $529,000. Eagle, Garfield and Pitkin counties will have a loan limit of $636,150. The loan limit in Lake, Routt, San Miguel and Summit counties is $625,500. Most other counties have a limit of $424,100. ✓ REcolorado's Homesnap app seems to be the new way to communicate with clients and other REALTORS®.

Quick Stats:

- Since 2005 we have averaged a 10.1% seasonal decrease in listings from October to November, but over the last three years we've averaged 20.3% drop. This year we had a 17.3% month-over-month drop, which is more in line with the last three years.
- Average month end active listings for November is 15,544 (1985-2015).
- Record high November month end active listings was 2006 with 27,530.
- Record low November month end active listings was 2014 with 5.420.

EXPERT OPINION

STEVE DANYLIW

Chairman of the DMAR

Chairman of the DMAR Market Trends Committee and Denver real estate agent As we spent time with friends and family enjoying all the turkey and trimmings, we also gave thanks to another hot summer selling season. With Thanksgiving now in our rearview mirror, we can reflect on the good and not so good of our summer housing market. 2016 saw record highs and lows. In July, we hit an all-time high for the average sold price of a home at $420,178 and median sold price at $365,000. February brought us a record low for month-end inventory of 3,963. Compare that to our all-time high of 31,989 in July of 2006. This year's housing market was driven by historically low inventories, high demand and affordability concerns for many buyers including first timers.

The question on the mind of many REALTORS® is how long will this market last? Let's look deeper into the numbers that could affect our future. In November of 2010, 33.5 percent of the sold properties were distressed sales (REO, HUD and short sales) compared to 0.3 percent this November. We would be hard-pressed to go any lower. With that said, Notice of Election and Demand (NED) filings are on the rise with Denver experiencing its first November increase in NED filings since 2009. We'll keep a close eye on the increase of foreclosures and the potential effect on our market.

What does average look like? Of the homes that sold in November, the average detached single-family home was 1,878 square feet, four bedrooms, three bathrooms, and was built in 1981. The average attached single-family home/condo was 1,233 square feet, two bedrooms, two bathrooms, and was built in 1988.

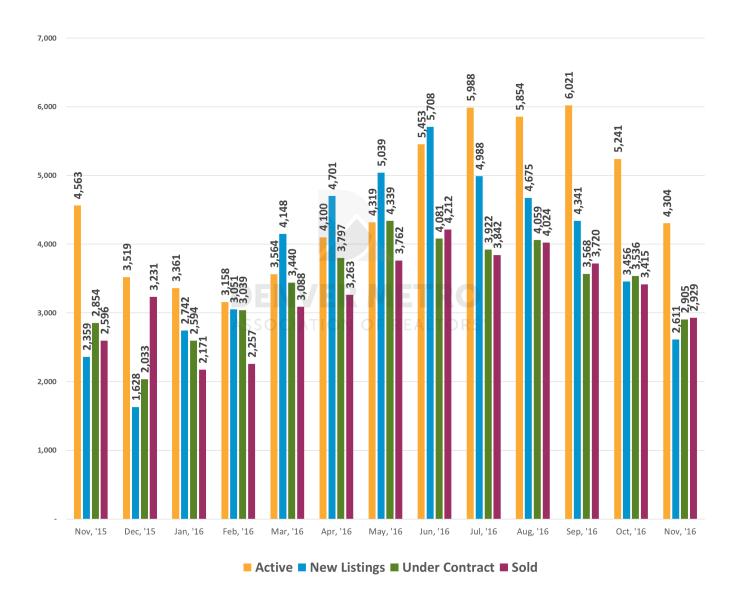

Final Tidbits: Another big question on everyone's mind is how the Trump administration will affect the housing market. Having a real estate developer in the White House may bring positive things for both buyers, sellers and REALTORS® alike. We have already seen an increase in interest rates and some are calling this part of the "Trump Bump." The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, which brought us the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, looks to be in the crosshairs for repeal or, more likely, a significant re-work. Lastly, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac may transition from a government-sponsored enterprise to a completely privatized organization.

On a side note, you may have noticed some changes to our Market Trends Report. We've gone to new landscape format with a fresh look and feel. Additionally, the committee has added more historical perspective to the Luxury, Signature and Premiere reports. Weigh-in via social media using #dmarstats.

EXPERT OPINIONS

Luxury Market: Luxury home sellers had a lot to be thankful for in November, even though sales of single-family homes priced over $1 million was down about two percent from October. The blessing was that sales were up nearly 102 percent from the same month in 2015. Our small inventory of homes has helped eat away at some of the excessive luxury inventory, with only 7.5 months of inventory available in November. That's getting closer to an equal market between homebuyers and sellers of five to six months of inventory. Year-to-date sales of Luxury Market single-family homes were up 24.57 percent from this time in 2015. That's a whopping 179.34 percent more than 2011 year-to-date. Sellers have also seen a steady increase in price per square foot over the past five years, from $227 price per total square foot to $270. Luxury condo buyers were the ones enjoying the Thanksgiving pie in November. With more than 15 months of inventory, they certainly had a smorgasbord of choices. However, these buyers had to pay 26.3 percent more per square foot year-to-date than they did in 2011: $533 compared to $422, respectively.

Signature Market: Signature Market home sellers were more focused on getting ready for their families to arrive for the holiday last month, as evidenced with single-family homes priced between $750,000 to $999,999 falling 15.5 percent from October. Sellers were thankful to see home sales up 47.3 percent year over year though. There was more turkey for everyone this year with single family and condo sales in the Signature Market were up 23.09 percent year-to-date compared to last year, and 226.08 percent year-to-date compared to 2011. Bring on the stuffing because that's over 1,200 more home sales in 2016 year-to-date, compared to 2011 in this price range. Signature Market condo home sellers were preparing more for Black Friday, Small Business Saturday and Cyber Monday with a 22.22 percent decrease in sales month over month; however, there was a lot more online home shopping going on this year compared to last with 63.64 percent more condo sales year-to-date, and an astounding 694.12 percent more year-to-date compared to 2011.

Premier Market: November is a time we celebrate the abundance in our lives - and in regards to Denver area real estate, the Premier market was bountiful. In single-family residential, the Premier Market price range is still charging ahead with the greatest increase in percentage of year-to-date home sales over last year, compared to all other price ranges we track (26.11 percent over 2015). The movement in this price range is due to move-up buyers from the $400,000's price range, as well as move-up buyers within the ranges of $500,000 to high $600,000, or "right sizing" buyers in the $700,000's coming down from higher price brackets. With over three months of inventory in this range, there were some wonderful choices available for the real estate agents and homebuyers who snapped out of the tryptophan daze and were gobbling up these great homes!

GLOSSARY

Active Listings: The number of properties available for sale at the end of the reported period. The availability of homes for sale has a big effect on supply-demand dynamics and home prices.

New Listings: The number of properties which became available during the reported period.

Under Contract: The number of listings that were changed status from Active to Under Contract at the end of the reported period. Under Contract listings are counted at the end of the reported period. Each listing can only be counted one time. If a listing goes into Under Contract, out of Under Contract, then back into Under Contract all in one reported period, the listing would only be counted once. This is the most real-time measure possible for home buyer activity, as it measures signed contracts on sales rather than the actual closed sale. As such, it is called a "leading indicator" of buyer demand.

Days on Market (DOM): A measure of how long it takes a given property to sell, on average.

Sold Listings: A measure of home sales that sold and closed during the reported period.

Average Sales Price: A sum of all home sales prices divided by the total number of sales. Not considered the most accurate gauge since data from the high-end can easily skew the results.

Median Sales Price: A measure of home values in a market area where 50% of activity was higher and 50 percent was lower than this price point. This method is preferred because it's more insulated from outlying activity occurring at either tail end of the market.

Months Supply of Inventory (MOI): A measure of how balanced the market is between buyers and sellers. It is expressed as the number of months it would hypothetically take to sell through all the available homes for sale currently, given current levels of home sales. A balanced market ranges from 4 to 6 months of supply. A buyer's market has a higher number, reflecting fewer buyers relative to homes for sale. A seller's market has a lower number, reflecting more buyers relative to homes for sale.

Residential (RES): Represents the overall housing market which includes activity of Single Family Homes as well as Condos.

Single Family (Detached Homes): Activity of Detached Single Family Homes.

Condo (Attached Homes): Activity of Attached Condos & Townhomes.

Premier Market: Properties priced between $500,000 and $749,999.

Signature Market: Properties priced between $750,000 and $999,999.

Luxury Market: Properties priced at $1,000,000+ ($1M+).

REcolorado: The source of our MLS listings data.
